

StonerStoner® E333
No Wash Pattern Release

Major supplier saves time and money using a “no wash” wax pattern release.

A major Investment Casting molder of sophisticated parts made the switch away from silicone wax pattern release. In this case they needed to move away from their solvent based pattern wash and the resulting issues associated with it.

Item # E333

Will increase your Investment casters productivity.

This molder switched to E333 No Wash Pattern Release because:

- They saved 1.5 to 2 minutes per part when eliminating the wash/etch process. This resulted in a yearly savings of 1,625 hours a year.
- It eliminated the need to handle and monitor and be responsible for water treatment from their solvent pattern wash.
- It allowed them to free up space for other manufacturing and warehouse needs.
- There was no loss of integrity with their finished parts, and in some cases they saw improvement.
